Our solutions

At Data40, we provide research services, data processing, and analysis in two directions: ready-to-use and private solutions. Our ready-to-use solutions are pre-packed and available for instant purchase and download, providing you with quick access to essential data on specific topics. Our private solutions are custom queries tailored to your individual needs.

Market Research Services

Market research is essential for making informed strategic and tactical decisions in any business. Our Market Research service retrieves and cleans industry-specific data from multiple sources. We analyze this data to produce comprehensive reports.

Wide Industry Coverage

We have years of experience providing tailor-made research across a range of sectors.

Multiple Data Sources

We search through websites, forums, social media, product reviews, video comments, expert opinions, open-data and databases.

Custom Reports

We deliver custom market research reports that are tailored to meet your unique business needs.

Recurring Research

Our projects are flexible and can be conducted as one-time-job or recurring-operational needs.

How We Work?

Analysis Requirements

We do preliminary study and form methods and survey plans to reach answers on your query.

Multiple Data Sources
